Zelgor 2022 Year in Review

Hello Zelgor Supporters!

Zelgor has been working tirelessly throughout 2022 to get the Noobiverse ready for a grand opening. After our initial test launch, we learned a tremendous amount about the game, including what was working and what we wanted to improve prior to launch. We recognized that in order to maximize the fun factor, we needed to push toward easier gameplay for new players with a focus on more frequent small wins and incremental progress. In a nutshell, we needed to make the game friendlier to Noobs!

As a result, we've made significant renovations to the core game loop of Noobs in Space. We've shifted away from simply surviving while dodging asteroids, and added new core features like collecting fruit and crafting wacky Noob inventions while exploring the Universe. We've also put an increased emphasis on the storytelling elements within the game. We believe these changes will significantly improve the long-term retention of Noobs in Space and we can't wait to share them with all of you.

Currently, we're in the process of fixing bugs and adding finishing touches before our next early-access release. While we plan to release our next version of Noobs in Space in early 2023, we know many of you are eager to see what we've been working on. We've put together an updated trailer to give you a sneak peek of our progress and what's to come: InvestorUpdate.Zelgor.com

Thanks to all the progress we've made with the support from over 1,500 investors, Zelgor was able to raise over $600,000 in 2022 at $1 per share through a combination of traditional angel investments and Reg CF. We also saw our previous Noobs in Space trailer surpass 60,000 views on YouTube. The support we've received from you has enabled us to take Noobs in Space to the next level as we prepare the game for its next release via early access, and ultimately soft launch.

We know some of you are eager to learn even more about Zelgor, the Noobs, and the magic behind the scenes. That's why we'll host our first-ever Noob Summit Meeting on January 11th, at 6 pm ET. This will be a chance to talk with me and other members of our team directly about the state of the Noobs, our plans for the future, and more. If you'd like to attend, make sure to sign up for investor updates via Invest.Zelgor.com or follow us @ZelgorGames on all social platforms for more information.

On behalf of the entire Zelgor team, I'd like to thank you for all your support! The Noobs would not be where they are today without your support. On to 2023!
